EVENT RECAP - WORLD LITERATURE STUDENT CONFERENCE

A COMPLETE SUCCESS!! The annual World Literature Student Conference took place on March 30th this year, officially back in person. We were able to enjoy a wide variety of presentations interpreting the 2022 theme 'Beautiful Fragments: Stories of Empathy and Entanglement'.

Whether you attended the event, organized or participated, or even engaged with us on social media, THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT! We look forward to continuing the conference at the 2023 iteration, and hope to see you there!

Meet a wonderful member of the WLL community!

what is your major/minor: Major in World Literature and Languages and Minor in Publishing what is your favourite thing about the WLL community: I love how the WLL community is close-knit and how we have wholesome family vibes – although we are a tiny community, we are mighty. Also, I find the WLL community welcoming as we embrace multiculturalism and diversity.

are you learning any right languages now? Currently I am learning Japanese what's your favourite WLL class to date? My favourite WLL class to date is WL 100 since it was the first class, I took at SFU. I love this class because it not only introduced me to world literature, but it was the class that helped me decide to pursue a major in world literature.
